Oh wow, has it been an entire year? The time has literally flown by.

I owe such deep debts of gratitude to so many people. I hope I don't miss anyone, but if I do, please know it is unintentional.

First, to Zoey. Truly, my friend, I am so proud of how you have navigated this year. To say it has been a challenge is an extreme understatement. Through the relentless attacks, you have walked with grace and poise. You have stayed above it all when it would be so easy to go low. You are a true inspiration to me. Thank you for being you. Thank you for loving me, inspiring me and motivating me to keep going. It has been a true blessing to reign with you, this year.

Next, my beautiful princess, Choc-Latini. I adore every chaotic molecule in your body. From late night road trips, to laughing at inside jokes until our stomachs hurt you have made this year amazing. It has been a joy to reign with a true friend.

Fred. Truly, I don't have words to describe my love for you. Beyond being my 40 year, you have been a source of encouragement, strength and knowledge. I will forever be grateful for your wisdom and guidance.

To RG. You have been such an amazing force in my life this year. You have taught me so much and I am so grateful for you. Your support, care and encouragement has been vital to me this year. I will forever value your friendship, wisdom and support.

Loki. My dear friend. You have a smile that lights up an entire room. Thank you for always being there. You showed up and cheered me on in some of my darkest moments. I am so grateful to you.

Harlott, you have the most infectious laugh. It makes me smile every time I hear you. The work you have done behind the scenes has been nothing short of amazing. You have been such a vital part of this reign. Thank you, thank you, an infinite thank yous.

Kay, seriously I couldn't have done this without you. You have been a ray of light to me. I am so grateful to have you in my life. I'm lucky to call you my friend.

Chuck Bates. You have been one of our constants. Your support and encouragement has been wonderful.

To the Imperial Family, Unique, Neveah, KB, Kiki, Raffeekee, Giovanni, Brian, and Christina. You all have busted your asses to raise money and support our community. I am so proud of you all and I do not have words to express my gratitude.

Finally, to Scotti. What words are enough to express how I feel about you? The truth is there are none. You are truly an treasure and an icon. I am so blessed to have you in my life. Thank you for your grace and courage as you blazed this trail that we all casually walk today. Thank you for building this stage that we all stand on.

Forever,
Prince Royale 52
Hunter Down

Picture it, Denver, January 2025...I was being mindful and demure minding my own business and I was approached by Ms. Zoey Dubois Diddim who wanted to ask me a question ...a little nervous about what the question was, but I was all ears anyway. "Will you consider being my princess when I am elected Empress 52 of IGRME." I said yes, because I knew Zoey and I had the same ideas for what needed to be done.

Did we get all we wanted accomplished, no, not at all, but we did get the year done and made some amazing memories and great new friends.

I didn't quite know what it was to be Princess Royale, but I knew whatever it was I was not going to let my Empress down, nor the other people in the court who I respect and look up to. I wanted to be part of the change to move the organization forward and grow. Well, let's just say this year was something else. We got off to a rocky start, but that didn't stop the work that needed to be done. I can end this year and say I am so pleased with how the year went and love that I got to share it with Zoey and my handsome prince Hunter. I will carry all the memories with me forever (gag -I know).

We started the year with a vision and mission to bring our community closer together and it seemed like we were in for a fight. We had lots of opposition throughout the year, but we were determined to make our mark and that we did. The climate of our times in society as well as within the LGBTQIA+ community has had some tough trials and tests, but we can't throw in the towel.

We may not have accomplished all we wanted, but we did accomplish some amazing things. I was able to travel to other realms and meet amazing people who I now consider family and friends.

I was fortunate enough to attend coronations in Alaska, Iowa, LA, Seattle and Long Beach and it was more than words can express. To the House of Poo in Alaska, what a great introduction to the travel scene and relationship building, it was kinda like the real world, but more real. I will forever hold you all close to my heart. I attended a coronation solo and was really nervous about the experience. I didn't think I would know anyone, nor did I want to let my empress or Denver down. I was pleasantly surprised by the warm welcome I received from many who didn't know me, and some old faces from my travels before. I walk away from this experience with a full heart and lots of memories. I don't have the words to really use to express all the gratitude I have to all who rode this journey with us.

No this wasn't the way I had envisioned this going, but I have enjoyed the ride for sure. To all the people who showed up to events or gave money behind the scenes or just called to check in - I appreciate it and you! You all made this the journey of a lifetime.

To my Empress Zoey Dubois Diddim - I will ride with you anytime! Thank you for allowing me to serve as your princess this year, I hope I didn't let you down. I love you more than anything.

To my Prince Hunter Down - words can't even begin to let you know how you mean to me. Thank you for putting up with me and my shenanigans. I wouldn't want to take a 24 hour round trip road trip with anyone other than you. You have been such an amazing prince and support to both me and Zoey and for that I am grateful. I love you for real real!

If you really wanna know how it went, come find me and we can chat, I would much rather share it through conversation.

Just thought you might like to know...dung beetles are the world's strongest animal! When moving balls of dung, a roller can pull a whopping 1,141 times its own bodyweight.

Dear Prince Royal 52, Hunter Down, and Princess Royal 52, Choc-latini,
Congratulations on an extraordinary year.

Watching you both grow in your titles has been an absolute gift, and I am so proud of all you have accomplished. You served our community with heart, humor, and dedication.

Whether on stage, at fundraisers, or offering support to those in need.

Your representation of ICRME has been meaningful and deeply appreciated. Thank you for the time, energy, and care you gave. You honored tradition while welcoming new ideas. Take pride in the impact you've made and the people you've become. You have left a lasting mark, and it has been my privilege to witness your journey.

With love and pride,
